DOCTORS ELECT WHITE PRESIDENT

Politics in Medical Society of Virginia Defeat Carrington

COMMITTEE IGNORED

Executive Council's Choice Beaten on the Floor of the Convention After Discussion

Richmond, Oct. 28.—Bringing to a close the most sensational political fight ever waged by opposing factions in the Medical Society of Virginia, Dr. Joseph A. White, of this city, nominated on the floor in opposition to Dr. Charles V. Carrington, also of Richmond, who was recommended to the society by the nominating committee of the executive council, was yesterday afternoon elected president of the society by a majority of more than two to one. The vote stood 263 for White and 106 for Carrington.

The bitter contest between the two Richmond physicians for the highest honor within the gift of the Medical Society of Virginia was altogether unique in the annals of the society. During the number of years in which the responsibility of selecting the society's president has rested with its representatives in the executive council the choice of that committee has never failed of ratification by the general body. Its recommendation has heretofore carried such weight as to make it equivalent to an election.

Nearly 400 physicians, augmented by many women and nonmembers of the society, packed the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel when the hour arrived for action on the annual recommendations of the executive council. For hours the political storm had been brewing, and a tense quietness prevailed while Dr. Thomas W. Murrell read out other recommendations preparatory to announcing the choice of the nominating committee for officers of the society during the ensuing year.

With the announcement that Dr. Carrington was recommended to the society for election to the presidency, Dr. Frank W. Hancock, of Norfolk, arose at once and, after asserting the right of the society under the constitution to elect whomsoever it pleased as officers, despite the recommendation of the committee on nominations, placed the name of Dr. White before the house. The nomination was warmly seconded by Dr. J. M. Burke, of Petersburg.

Dr. J. Shelton Horsley, of Richmond, then took the floor, and in an impassioned speech deplored the sharp political division among the members of the society.

Dr. McGuire Newton, a member of the executive council, followed Dr. Horsley. "I want to explain the unusual situation," he said, "that developed in the council. Contrary, perhaps, to the general belief, this game of politics was injected long before the sessions of this society began in Richmond. I found a systematic campaign by mail and otherwise had been in progress for months, and, desirous that politics should have no place here, and knowing the eminent qualifications that Dr. White possesses for the position, I refused to concur in the nomination of Dr. Carrington."

Dr. John N. Upshur, expressing great friendship for both the rival candidates, deplored the situation that had arisen, and pleaded for support of the council's recommendation in recognition of the principles of fair play and orderly procedure, for which, he said, the society has stood since its inception. "Don't squeal," he said, "because another man is a better politician than you are, and beware of specious argument."

Prompted by the bitterness injected into the election of president, Dr. J. Allison Hodges, introduced the following resolution, to be acted upon by the executive council:

"Resolved, that section 4, of article 6, of the constitution, be so amended that no member of the society, living in the place in which the society is holding its session, shall be eligible to election to the office of president for a succeeding year."

Other nominations of the committee acted upon without opposition were: Dr. M. J. Payne, of Staunton, first vice president; Dr. E. E. Field, of Norfolk, second vice president; Dr. R. M. Wiley, of Salem, third vice president; Dr. Paulus A. Irving, of Farmville, secretary, and Dr. Mark W. Peyser, of Richmond, treasurer. Drs. C. R. Grandy, W. D. Turner and A. L. Gray were elected chairmen of the judiciary, membership and legislative committees, respectively, and Drs. Southgate Leigh, of Norfolk, and William E. Anderson, of Farmville, were named as delegates to the American Medical Association. The retiring president, Dr. Samuel Lile, of Lynchburg, was elected to honorary membership in the society, and Drs. S. L. Kendig, of Victoria, and John Stagg Davis, of the University of Virginia, were named, respectively, councilor from the Fourth Congressional District and councilor at large.

Following the afternoon session Governor Stuart held a reception at the executive mansion in honor of the physicians. Last night, after the evening session, there was an informal reception and dance at the Jefferson.

The society began its last session again today at 9 o'clock, adjourning at 1 o'clock, to meet for the 1916 convention in Norfolk.

STARTS ON LONG FLIGHT

Beryl H. Kendrick Leaves Albany for Carolina Coast in a Flying Boat.

Albany, N. Y. Oct. 28.—Beryl H. Kendrick, left this city at 8:30 a. m. yesterday in a flying boat in an attempt to fly to Cape Hatteras, N. C. He was reported as having passed Castleton, forty minutes after the start, and to be headed toward Poughkeepsie.

New York, Oct. 28.—Beryl H. Kendrick, in a hydroaeroplane, arrived here at 11:40 a. m., yesterday completing the first stage of his intended flight from Albany to Charleston, S. C.

Kendrick had followed the Hudson river from Albany, and was flying about 3,500 feet above the river when he reached here. He soared over the Statue of Liberty, and attracted much interest from persons on vessels and along the water front as he passed down the bay, headed toward Staten Island.

Previously Kendrick had descended near the pier on the Edwin Gould estate at Ardslee on Hudson. He took on gasoline, and made some adjustments preparatory to passing over salt water.

TWENTY-ONE GIRLS DEAD

Horrors in Connecticon With Burning of Proachial School

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 29—Twenty one children, all girls ranging from six to eighteen years of age, were burned or trampled to death in the tragic fire that destroyed St. John's Parochial school at Peabody yesterday morning.

Last night fifteen identifications had been made. Three other children are on the dangerous list at the Peabody Hospital. Out of the chaos of the most terrible day in Peabody's history, it is feared that tomorrow will reveal more victims.

Dazed by the catastrophe, the grief stricken parents of lost and saved alike, the feverishly excited children and the sisters of Notre Dame today were able to give the local and State officials only the barest detail concerning the tragedy, making it necessary to postpone the official investigation until tomorrow.

Certain facts stand out, however:

First, there were no fire escapes on the building.

Second, a faulty hydrant delayed the pouring of water into the structure for fifteen minutes.

The building was about twenty-five years old, and was without the fireproof material which enters into the construction of modern school buildings, so that the flames spread with great rapidity.

DEATH NOTICE.

AUSTRIA DENIES EXPORT RIGHT

Sends Note Declaring For New Construction of the Code

DUMBA IS SUSTAINED

Protests Against Abnormal Increase of War Supply Factories Here For Teutonic Enemies

Washington, Oct. 29—Austria has flatly denied the right of the United States to export munitions to the allies in a diplomatic note received at the State Deparment. The communication contends that the old rules of international law cannot be applied to the extraordinary conditions of the present.

While not assailing the abstract right of the United States to furnish munitions to belligerents, the note declares for a new and more liberal construction of the code existing between nations.

Officials who discussed the note declared that by more than indirection Austria has sustained the activities in the United States of Ambassador Theodor Dumba, who, at the request of the President, has ceased to represent Austria in this counery. There is in the note, however, no reference to the charge made by the United Stats that Dr. Dumba was seeking to interfere with the munitions plants themselves and also with an internal policy of this country.

The main purpose of the Austrian government, as disclosed, is to protest against the abnormal increase of munitions plants here. Based on the proof that there is such abnormal increase, Austria argues that, as German ports and Austrian ports are closed, the increase is solely for the benefit of the enemies of Germany and Austria. Holding this view, the Austrian Foreign Office charges that the continuance of support by the United States to the export of the enormous supplies is in the spirit of the law essentially unneutral.

It is not known what reply the State Department will make to this latter charge, but it is understood that the United States proposes in its answer to stand on the letter of international law. It is claimed this government cannot now reverse the policy it formulated a year ago defining the commercial rights of its citizens. At that time the State Department declared there was no limit to export, even of contraband of war. As to the latter class of goods, it was held that the only remedy for Germany and Austria would be the capture of vessels carrying contraband, and the confiscation of cargoes. It was pointed out that there is a constant export from the United States to Great Britain and France of articles that are declared contraband of war by Germany, but that nothing can prevent it except the warships of Germany.

SECOND VICTIM DEAD.

Mrs. Miller, Injured by Train, Follows Husband.

York, Pa., Oct. 28.—The removing of blood clots from the brain failed to save the life of Mrs. Emma J. Miller, who was injured Saturday evening when her husband, Jacob Miller, was killed on the Pennsylvania railroad crossing just north of Emigsville by the St. Louis Express while they were returning home from York.

After the accident the aged couple was placed on the train and taken to the Harrisburg hospital. Mr. Miller died on the way and Mrs. Miller ligered in an unconscious condition until yesterday.

"CHANT OF THE SWORD"

The Berne correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says Germany's "Hymn of Hate" has been supplanted by "The Chant of the German Sword"—a composition brought out in Leipzig a week or so ago, which has already run into half a dozen editions.

This is what its anonymous author makes the "German sword" says:

"It is no duty of mine to be either just or compassionate; it suffices that I am sanctified by my exalted mission and that I blind the eyes of my enemies with such streams of tears as shall make the proudest of them cringe in terror under the vault of heaven.

"I have slaughtered the old and the sorrowful; I have struck off the breasts of women, and I have run through the body of children who gazed at me with the eyes of the wounded lion.

"Day after day I ride aloft on the shadowy horse in the valley of Cypresses; and as I ride I draw forth the life-blood from every enemy's son that dares to dispute my path.

"It is meet and right that I should cry aloud by pride, for am I not the flaming messenger of the Lord Almighty?

"Germany is so far above and beyond all the other nations that all the rest of the earth, be they who they may, should feel themselves well done by when they are allowed to fight with the dogs for the crumbs that fall from her table.

"When Germany, the divine, is happy, then the rest of the world basks in smiles; but when Germany suffers, God in person is rent with anguish, and, wrathful and avenging, He turns all the water into rivers of blood."

VARNA IS BOMBARDED

Turkish Troops Rushed to Bulgarian Ports to Prevent Landing of Russian Troops

London, Oct. 29—The French have landed 150,000 men and 100 big guns at Saloniki and are preparing to move to the aid of the Serbians, according to dispatches from both Bucharest and Vienna.

The French forces already in Serbia, operating in connection with the Serbs, are reported to have recaptured Uskup, the important point on the Nish-Saloniki railway which fell to the Bulgarians several days ago.

The entire Veles district has been cleared of the invaders by Franco-Serbian troops, according to Saloniki dispatches, while French troops on the Krivolak-Radovitch line are pressing forward against Istip, with the Bulgarians in retreat before them. Istip is said to have been evacuated.

Turkish troops are being rushed to Varna, Burgas and other Bulgarian Black Sea ports to oppose a landing by the Russians, it is reported in addition, 70,000 Turks have arrived at Dedeagatch, the Bulgarian port on the Aegean Sea to withstand any attempt by the Allies to land troops.

Against the Franco-Serb successes in the south, official reports from Berlin tell of further advances by the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians in the north.

Pirot, at the terminus of the Nish-Pirot railway, has been occupied by the Bulgarians, according to news from Saloniki. Pirot is 35 miles east of Nish, and was strongly fortified.

Gen. Boyadjieff's Bulgarian troops have taken Zaichar, near the border terminal point on a railway line from Nish, and pressing forward have also taken Knishevatz, on the same railway, midway between Zaichar and Nish.

They have crossed the Timok river, north of Knishevatz on a wide front and have captured several guns. Pressing forward on Nish from Pirot, other Bulgarian troops have taken by storm the height of Krenovaclava, 15 miles northwest of Pirot.

Further success for the Teutons under Generals Koevess and von Gallwitz, pressing down upon the Serbs from the north on a front of more than 100 miles are reported by Berlin. These forces are said to have taken more than 2,000 Serbian prisoners since Monday. On the western frontier of Serbia the Austrians are reported to be making consistent gains.

Vast supplies of arms and ammunition are already reported to be pouring into Bulgagia and Turkey following the opening by Austro-German and Bulgarian troops of the Danube route around Northeastern Serbia. Vast fleets of steamers had been mobilized and were ready to move the instant the way had been cleared.

The Russians are reported to be making strong representations to Roumania to allow the passage of troops across her territory. Gen. Radko Dimitrieff, the Bulgarian general who has been in command of a Russian army since the beginning of the war, is at present in Bucharest conducting the representations.

The Corriere Della Serra, of Milan, prints a dispatch to the effect that General Dimitrieff will lead the Russian troops who will go to Serbia's aid against Bulgaria.

E. H. ALLEN,

ALLEGED PEACE OVERTURE

Winter Campaign Unlikely to Yield Germany Military Decision

Paris, Oct. 29—Information has reached Paris that Germany, convinced that the forthcoming winter campaign is unlikely to yield a military decision in her favor, is again making an indirect peace proposal to the allies. It is asserted that the whole quadruple entente will peremptorily refuse to entertain it.

Proceeding on the cautious assumption that Germany's overtures are designed to lull the allies' activities and conceal preparations for a new drive with her armies, Great Britain, France and Russia are hurriedly reconstructing their internal political organization with the sole object of a still more vigorous prosecution of the war.

France is in the midst of this process. M. Briand stated last night that definite announcement of the composition of the new cabinet would be made today.

The cabinet's sole purpose will be to push the battles of the trenches and the diplomatic green table more quickly and energtically, and, above all, to silence peace talk, at least till Germany is forced back to her own frontiers.

Gabriel Hanotaux, discussing the military and diplomatic situation, positively confirms this information, saying:

"Germany is making peace overture to the allies. We are flatly refusing to heed them."

London, Oca. 29.—An emphatic denial that Great Britain was engaged in any peace negotiations, direct or indirect, was made by David Lloyd George, the minister of munitions, in reply to a question in the House of Commons yesterday.

Mr. Lloyd George continued:

"We shall not think of entering any peace negotiations except in common with our allies in accordance with the agreement made in September, 1914."

SHOT MAN ON A DARE

Also Disarmed Sleuth and Forced Him to Aid Wire Theft

Paterson, N. J., Oct., 29.— Fred Martin, of Totowa, admitted that he had shot a man on a dare before Judge Klenert, yesterday, when he pleaded non vault to a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

According to John Levine, a New York telephone company detective, who witnessed the shooting, Martin entered a railroad tower, pushed the gun into the stomach of Gus Schmonski, the towerman, and said: "How would you like to die?"

"I don't care," said Schmonski, joking.

There was a report, and Schmonski doubled up in agony. The shot was not fatal. Levine said he was detailed to trace Martin, suspected as a wire thief, but was caught and disarmed by Martin and forced to become his accomplice. Martin will be sentenced Friday.

CAPTURED AT SEA

British Cruiser Makes Prisoners of German Officers and Sinks Yacht Eclipse

New York, Oct 29—The six officers of the interned German raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, who escaped from Norfolk, Va., Oct. 10, on the yacht were captured at sea by a British Eclipse warship, according to information in a letter received here.

The letter was sent to William Wolff, a New York manufacturer, by his mother-in-law, who was a passenger on the steamer Bermudian, which left New York for Hamilton last Wednesday.

According to the letter, the Bermudian was stopped a short distance from its destination by a British cruiser which engaged the passenger vessel in wireless conversation.

The substance of the talk as told by the wireless operator of the Bermudian was that the cruiser, the identity of which is not given, had overtaken the missing Eclipse at sea, made prisoners of the German officers and sunk the yacht.

The letter gives no other details.

Reports have been current in shipping circles here for several days that th yacht had been captured by a British cruiser believed to have been H. M. S. Melbourne.

PEACE PLANS ABSORB EUROPE

Von Buelow at Lucerne Preparing Formula for Allies

SPAIN THE MEDIATOR?

Political Situation in Europe Believed to Portend That Big Fight is Nearing Its Close

Geneva, Switzerland, Oct. 29.— Announcing Prince von Buelow's arrival at Lucerne, the Tribune asserted today that the purpose of the German ex-chancellor's visit is to endeavor, in consultation with another diplomat to find a definite formula for presentation by the Pope to the allies with a view to ending the war.

It is believed that this was the basis of a rumor a few days ago that von Buelow was about to let President Wilson and the King of Spain know the terms on which Germany would make peace.

Washington, Oct. 29. — Will the United States or Spain—President Wilson or King Alfonso—be the peace mediator in Europe's war?

This is an absorbing question today in both official and diplomatic quarters as a result of renewed and intense interest here and in Europe in possible peace negotiations.

"The great war is now being fought in the capitals of Europe," one cabinet member in close touch with the situation said today. "The soldiers are not carrying on the battles. The struggle is being waged in Paris, London, Petrograd and Berlin. The political situations developing at those points look as if the big fight were about over."

Many members of the diplomatic corps here believe Spain, rather than the United States, because of this country's disputes with both Germany and England, will be the mediator. Spain has not engaged in commercial or other disputes with the belligerents. Unofficial information from Germany is to the effect that the United States is not in the best position to be the chief peace factor.

Ambassador Gerard's long conference with the Kaiser is believed by many officials here to have launched the new discussion of peace in the foreign capitals. In the opinion of many officials the collapse of the French cabinet and the bickerings not only between English officials but between the allies generally portend peace.

That the attention of the world will soon be focused on world politics rather than battlegrounds is predicted by many officials.

RATS ATTACK LITTLE ONES

Three Children of Salvation Army Captain Bitten as They Slept

Burlington, N. J., Oct. 29.—Three children of Captain and Mrs. Frederick Goddard, in charge of Salvation Army work is Burlington were badly bitten by rats that gnawed through the floor of their bedroom at the local barracks and attacked them while they slept. Awakened by their screams, Captain Goddard and his wife were horrified to find the children in blood-soaked night-dresses and bed-clothing, writhing with pain. Several large rats dropped from the beds and disappeared through holes in the floor. Physicians were hurriedly summoned and cauterized the wounds. Frederick, 11 years old, was badly bitten about the feet and a portion of one heel was gnawed away. Gladys, 8 years old, was bitten on the neck and fingers, and Myrtle, 5 years old, on the arms.

The army barracks is in an old building on Union near High street, adjacent to several stables, from which the rats are supposed to have come.

SERVICES LAST NIGHT

Rev. L. M. Ferguson, Pastor of M. E. Church, Delivers Address.

The sermon was preached by Rev. L. M. Ferguson, pastor, of Trinity M. E. church. last night at the union services in the First Baptist church. There was a large attendance and the speaker used as his theme "And sin when it is finished, bringeth forth death." He said:-

"Sin has been defined as self-assertion, or disobedience to God's will and desire for us. The effects then of sin are both natural and legal. Sin in its natural effects is seen in the physicial and mental evils induced. It will write its horrid effects on the body and even the mind, so that men cannot think right. Its effect is also manifested in the moral realm. The character is not builded of proper material and the holy aspiration of the soul is destroyed. But the legal aspect is the most serious, every sinful soul comes under the penalty of death, for the wages of sin is death. Jesus Christ can alone remove the legal penalty, for being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Services again this evening at 7:30

GRAND COMMANDERY

J. Johnston Green Elected Grand Generalissimo, and Chester A. Gwinn Grand Warder

J. Johnston Green, of this city, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, was elected last night by the grand commandery of Knights Templer of Virginia, at the annual conclave held in Richmond, to the position of grand generalissimo, the second highest office in the grand commandery.

Chester A. Gwinn, of this city, was elected grand warder, which places him in line of promotion. His election was the only new office filled, all of the other officers being advanced to the next highest office above the one they formally held.

The members of Old Dominion Commandery No. 11, of this city, who have been attending the sessions of the grand commandery are expected to return home tomorrow.

This was the ninety-third annual conclave of the Grand Commandery. It met in Masonic Temple yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, remaining in session all day, except for the time taken for luncheon.

Eleven of the past grand commanders were present, and Robert F. Taylor, grand commander, presided during the deliberations of the body, and all the other grand officers were present. George W. Kendrick, past grand commander, of Pennsylvania, was the representative of the acting grand master of the grand encampment of the United States, was present and installed the newly elected officers as follows:

J. T. Houck, Harrisonburg, grand commander.

Wm. Lee Davis, Portsmouth, deputy grand commander.

J. Johnston Green, Alexandria, grand generalissimo.

Dr. R. P. Carr, Norton, grand captain general.

D. C. Kennedy, Richmond, grand senior warden.

Geo. C. Cabell, Norfolk, grand junior warden.

Geo. W. Poe, Richmond, grand treasurer.

James B. Blanks, Petersburg, grand recorder.

Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, Danville, grand prelate.

Stanley W. Martin, Lynchburg, grand standard bearer.

Wm. M. Oakey, Lynchburg, grand sword bearer;

Chester A. Gwinn, Alexandria, grand warder.

James A. Pamplin, grand captain of the guard.

The grand commander announced the appointment of the following standing committees: On reports of officers, Wm. B. McChesney, James E. Alexander and E. D. Hotchkiss; on finance, Jos. V. Bidgood, Sol Cutchins, J. H. Price; on dispensations, charters and by-laws, D. C. Kennedy, W. W. Field, A. A. Eskridge; on grievances, Jas. L. Beck, Walter German, A. L. Evans; on fraternal relations, J. G. Hankins, James B. Blanks, R. F. Taylor; on refreshments, L. T. Christian, E. C. Walthall, W. M. Williams.

The report of the grand recorder showed the largest increase in membership for the past six years. A past grand commander's jewel was presented to retiring Grand Commander Taylor, by Geo. W. Kendrick.

BOY SCOUTS ELECT

Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America met last night at their headquarters at which time the name was changed from the Boy Scouts of America to the Alexandria Boy Scouts. The following officers were elected: Harry W. Rudd, scout commissioner. RECONSIDER DECISION

Local Board of Review Agrees to Assessment of Intangible Property

The local board of tax review has reconsidered its decision not to consider omitted intangible property returns at the present time and has practically completed the work of revising the report of W. N. Lipscomb, examiner of records of the sixteenth judicial circuit. Mr. Lipscomb reported that about 50 residents of Alexandria city has not reported the sum of $5,305,925 held by them in bonds, stocks, mortgages, cash on hand, etc.

The local board after hearing the evidence of the tax payers and going into all of the figures presented have reduced the amount reported by Mr. Lipscomb about sixty per cent making the net amount of omitted intangible property upon which taxes will have to be paid to $2,000,000.

The state will receive taxes on this sum at 35 cents on each $100, or $7,000. While the city has the right to tax this sum also at the local rate of $1.75 per $100 it is not throught that this will be done.

It is understood that the final amount as fixed by the local board of review is satisfactory to the tax payers and that there will be no further contest.

The local board has also approved the figures agreed upon by Mr. Lipscomb and the attorneys for the merchants of the city fixing the amount of the omitted purchases made by the merchants for the past five years. The amount agreed upon is about one fourth of the amount originally reported by Mr. Lipscomb.

BLOODY BATTLES OF THE PAST

In view of the wide-spread discussion and the still wider speculation anent the casualties suffered by the various participants in the greatest of all wars now pending, the subjoined data, dealing with the more important conflicts of former years, is taken from Army and Navy Journal:

The heaviest loss in the battles of the eighteenth century was at Kunersdorf, fought August 12, 1759, where 43,000 Prussians met 71,000 Russians and Austrians, and the total casualty list numbered 35,370 killed and wounded; 43.4 per cent. for the Prussians and 22.1 per cent. for the allies. At Zorndorf, fought a year earlier, August 25, 1758 the forces engaged were smaller and the total casualties fewer but the percentage of casualties greater, numbering 42.9 per cent. for the 42,000 Russians and 33.3 per cent. for the 36,000 Prussians. The principal battles of the nineteenth century was Leipzig, October 19, 1813, the "Battle of the Nations," where Napoleon with 171,000 men met and defeated the allied army numbering 301,500. Napoleon's casualties numbered 45,000 and those of the allies 48,000, but in percentage the losses told heavily against him. 26.3 per cent. to 16.2 per cent. for the Russians, Prussians and Austrians. At Aspern, May 21, 1809, 90,000 French lost 42,000, or 46.8 per cent., and 75,000 Austrians 22,520, or 30 per cent. At Borondino, September 7, 1812, the French lost 24,500, or 18.4 per cent. of their 130,000 and Russians 37,500 or 31 per cent of 121,000 men.

At Waterloo the French numbered 80,000 men and 252 guns; the Allies numbered 72,000 men and 186 guns. At Gettysburg the Union army numbered 82,000 men and 300 guns; the Confederates, 70,000 men and 250 guns. At Waterloo Wellington's army lost 23,185; at Gettysburg Meade's army lost 23,003.

The loss of the French at Waterloo has never been officially announced, but has been estimated at 26,200; the Confederate loss at Gettysburg, as officially reported by the Confederate Surgeon General, was 20,448, to which must be added 7,077 wounded and unwounded prisoners whose names are omitted from his lists, but appear on the records at Washington.

In short, the battles of Waterloo and Gettysburg were fought with from 70,000 to 82,000 men on each side, and the combatants lost about 23,000 men each.

In the Franco-Prussian war the greatest loss occurred at the battle of Gravelotte, where the Germans lost 4,449 killed (including the mortally wounded), 15,189 wounded and 939 missing; total 20,577. out of 146,000 troops engaged, exclusive of 65 000 reserves. At Gettysburg Meade's army sustained a greater loss with half the number engaged.

In the American Civil War during the six months following May 4, 1864 the various Union armies sustained greater loss than the German armies did during the whole Franco-Prussian war. The total loss of the German army in that war was 28,277 killed or mortally wounded, 85,482 wounded and 14,138 missing; total, 127,897.

The casualties at Borodino, one of the bloodiest battles since the use of gunpowder have been variously stated. The Encyclopdia Britannica puts the Russian loss at 30,000 in killed wounded and prisoners and the French loss at considerably above 20,000. Although the number of killed and wounded at Borodino was greater numerically, than at Waterloo and Gettysburg, the percentage of loss was very much less.

THE LATEST HOLACAUST.

During the past few years several fires have occured in schools and moving picture shows in different parts of the country, at which in the aggregate several hundred children have perished. The last horror occurred yesterday at Peabody, Mass. The details are sickening.

Twenty odd children, most of them girls, ranging in age from 7 to 17 years, lost their lives.

The 600 children had entered their classrooms for the morning session, when the fire was discovered, and although a majority of them were guided to safety by Sisters of the Order of Notre Dame, who were their teachers, panic seized a large number as they neared the front door, and in their rush to escape they lost their footing and their bodies blocked the exit.

It was in the front vestibule that nearly all the bodies were found. Nineteen bodies half of which could not be identified, were at an undertaking shop last night.

A few days ago in a practice drill the building was emptied within two minutes. It would have been cleared in almost the same time yesterday, it is said, but for the falling of a child believed to be a cripple, in the front vestibule. Over her body child after child, fearful of the flames and pressed on by the crowd behind, stumbled and fell. The opening was choked and further escape was in this way stopped.

The trouble at the rear door, which became jammed for a time, also impeded the movement of the children through the building. This exit was reopened, however, and many children escaped through it.

The classes of pupils, marshaled by the Sisters in the rooms and halls, had filed through the corridors and started down the stairs in orderly procession, notwithstanding curling plumes of smoke, until the blockade occured at the doors. Then, with cries from those below in their ears, the children in the rear lines scattered to the rooms on all three floors of the building.

There were no fire escapes on the building.

DISSATISFIED GERMANS

It has long since been demonstrated that a nation that observes real neutrality makes no friends with any of the warring nations.. Certainly the attitude of the administration has not found favor with the Germans of this country. The New York World referring to some of their activities of late says:

While German organizations representing 20,000 voters in Massachusetts were adopting resolutions declaring that they are firmly opposed to the re-election of Woodrow Wilson as President of the United States, certain other German activities in the vicinity of New York were commanding the earnest attention of detectives and Secret Service agents.

As a result four Germans are now in jail charged with conspiracy. Large quantities of high explosives were found, and one of the men, who claims to be an officer in the German army, has confessed that he was the head of a plot to place bombs on ships leaving New York harbor and carrying munitions of war.

The purpose of such a criminal undertaking was to prevent exports of ammunition to the allies, and the arrest of these men checks up with some of the evidence obtained in August and September when documentary evidence of the German conspiracy found in the papers of Dr. Albert, was published.

The Germans who are facing criminal prosecution for their dynamite plots operated along different lines from the German voters in Massachusetts who resolve that President Wilson must be defeated because of his uncompromising Americanism, but one purpose is common to all. The grievance of both is that President Wilson refused to reverse the established rules of international law and to prejudice the national defense of the United States in time of war in order to aid the German government. The concern of both is with the military advantage of Germany, not with the welfare of the United States.

SLAUGHTER BY AUTOMOBILE

The slaughter by automobile goes merrily on, says the New York Globe and in calling attention to the increasing number of those killed, and the fact that none are punished, it says:

Whether or not the large number of persons killed by automobiles in the city's streets can be laid to a failure to punish properly the reckless drivers may be open to question; but the fact remains that the slaughter goes merrily on. Already in the first nine months of this year 142 persons have been killed in the streets of Manhattan alone, and if the present rate is kept up the total for the year will be more than 200, the blackest record yet made.

It seems almost inconceivable that not one of the drivers connected with these 142 homicides should have been punished, but such is the case. In fact, not even so much as one of them has been held for grand jury action, although coroner's juries in twenty-two cases at least found the drivers guilty of criminal negligence. According to Section 1052 of the Penal Code many of these killings constituted manslaughter in the second degree. New Jersey, Connecticut and Illinois have punished with severe jail sentences automobile drivrs guilty of carelessness, less flagrant than that shown by drivers here, and in those States automobile fatalities are by no means as numerous as they are in New York.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A telegram from Budapest, says that King Peter of Serbia probably will leave that country and go to Italy.

The coroner's jury yesterday in San Francisco exonerated Mrs. Mary Palmais, who killed Michael Weinstein, a peddler, of Atlantic City, when he attacked her. The jury freed her on the ground that she defended her life and honor.'

The British cruiser Argyll, grounded yesterday morning off the east coast of Scotland. Owing to bad weather prevailing she may become a total wreck, All her officers and the crew have been saved.

A Bucharest dispatch says, that the Russians have begun an attack on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria. A Russian fleet arrived early yesterday morning off the Bulgarian coast, and immediately began a bombardment of Varna. Considerable damage has been done to the town.

The headless body of Miss Sophia McCallin, daughter of the late William C. McCallin, former mayor of Pittsburg, was found late Wednesday night on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at Roup, a passenger station within the city limits.

It is estimated that the European war has cost the belligerent powers $24,801,000,000 up to October 20. The cost is divided as follows: England, $6,163,000,000; France, $4,128,000,000; Russia,$3,724,000,000;Italy $643,000,000; Germany, $7,380,000,000; Austria, $2,763,000,000.

Oswald Petite, treasurer of a District of Columbia, Odd Fellows' lodge was robbed of $87 by two colored highwaymen Wednesday night. Petite who lives at 413 Twenty-first street northwest, Washington was near Ontario road and Florida avenue when waylaid by the negroes, One leveled a revolver at him while the other searched his clothes.

The possibility of Secretary of Commerce Redfield resigning from the Cabinet was widely discussed yesterday as the result of irritation felt in high official circles at statements which have been made by Mr. Redfield, as to measures which might be adopted to prevent the dumping of European goods at low prices in the American markets at the end of the war.

The scapegrace son of an aristocratic Holland family, who killed a woman a year ago in New York, and was only captured recentl, must die in the electric chair during the week of December 6. The doomed man is Petres Cornelius Van De Corput, who was sentenced yesterday for the murder of Mrs. Barbara Wright, by whom he had been employed. Corput used the name John Hendrick to shield his family from the disgrace he brought upon it.

A correspondent at Saloniki, says, all hopes of Greece lining up on the side of the allies must now be considered at an end.The Teotokis, Gounaris, Dragoumis and Rallis rule the cabinet, which is completely anti-English, anti-Russian and anti-Italian. The Greek ministry has received positive affirmation that Roumania will join hands with the central powers, concludes his dispatch.

The United States bonded warehouse on Pier 34 and 35 of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Locust Point, Baltimore, was totally destroyed by fire last night and estimates of the value of the contents of the warehouse varied between $300,000 and $400,000. By hard work the firemen kept the flames from two grain elevators, 200 feet away, which contained 2,000,000 bushels of grain.

Denial of a report printed in Holland that thirty or more death sentences against Belgians charged with espionage and treason had been pronounced by court martial at Liege is made in a dispatch from Berlin. It says, there have been in Liege recently no death sentences imposed upon persons for assisting Belgians to escape and join enemy armies, nor are proceedings in cases of that nature now pending.

Two distinct earthquake shocks were felt in Asheville, N. C., at 12:35 o'clock yesterday morning. The shocks came about two minutes apart, and lasted only a few seconds each. Houses in all parts of the city were shaken, and many people were aroused from sleep. Telephone inquiries from various points in the surrounding country indicated that the shock was general. So far as can be learned, no serious damage was done.

No evidence of any character to detract from the authenticity of Robert Fays, confession that he is an officer of the Kaiser's forces has been received in Washington, according to positive assertions of State Department officials. Because of this diplomatic representations to Germany are regarded as imminent, unless proof is forthcoming that Fay acted only as an individual in his participation in the plot to wreck cargoes destined for the allies. The only eventuality which can change the international aspect, which the matter now presents it is declared, will be the absolute disproval of Fay's confession by the German foreign office.

According to a dispatch received in London, Greece has replied to the British note, Greece demands that all troops landed at Saloniki, including those that have gone to the Serbian frontier, be reembarked without delay The government declares that it will regret to be under the necessity of disarming and interning by its own forces the allies now in Greece. The Rotterdam, Vossiche Zeitung declares that, according to reports from Saloniki, the Greek commander of the harbor has presented a note to the chief commander of the allied troops, there in which the expectation is expressed that by November 6, at latest all the foreign troops will have been reembarked.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy — If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a billious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their acting yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The nude body of an infant white girl, encased in a laundry collar box, was found in an ash barrel in Newport News, by a negro junk dealer Tuesday.

James B. Stephenson, 58 years old, a lawyer of Harrisonburg, died suddenly yesterday in Chicago, where he went several days ago to visit his children. He was a law classmate at the University of Virginia of President Wilson.

Warwick Hough, former judge of the Missouri Supreme Court, died last night at St. Louis. He was born in Loudoun county, seventy-nine years ago. Mr. Hough served on the staff of Lieutenant-General Polk in the Confederate army.

Bishop Robert Atkinson Gibson of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Virginia is a patient at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, suffering with an internal disease which may necessitate an operation. The bishop is 69 years old.

The remains of Thomas E. Williamson, who was accidentally shot and killed by his son, Junius Williamson, near Drewryville, Southampton county, early yesterday morning were brought to Petersburg, last night. Williamson and his son were deer hunting, and Junius Williamson shot his father, mistaking him for a deer, killing him almost instantly.

Frank, the eighteen-year old son of Levi Potter, living near Freeling, was killed while digging coal in a small opening, for one of his neighbors. The whole roof, being insufficiently propped, fell, crushing his leg, and otherwise, injuring him. The leg was amputated as soon as the boy could be removed from the mine, but death followed the operation within a few hours.

News has just reached this country of the narrow escape from death of Capt. J. E. B. Stuart, youngest son of the dashing Confederate leader, during the most recent Zeppelin raid on London. Capt. Stuart was in London on October 13, when the German Zeppelin raid, which proved so disastrous, was made on the city. Seated in his apartment in Strand Palace Hotel, on Exeter Street, London, writing a letter to his wife, Capt. Stuart narrowly missed being struck by one of the bombs, which came through the ceiling into the parlor, breaking into small bits less than forty feet from where he was seated.

Captain Thomas Scott Baldwin, one of America's foremost inventive aviators, has closed a contract with the city of Newport News whereby he is granted permission to build and test out on the City's land a hydro-aeroplane, which, is successful is expected to revolutionize the art of aviation in America. A pier will be used in the experiments in much the same manner that the dock of a battleship would be used.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
OFFICE OF
CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Proposed amendments to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1914, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 3, 1908.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 46, Article IV, of the Constitution.

Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section forty-six of article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly, after the first under this Constitution, shall continue longer than sixty days; but with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period, not exceeding thirty days. Except for the first session held under this Constitution, members shall be allowed a salary for not exceeding sixty days at any regular session, and for not exceeding thirty days at any extra session. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place nor for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates, and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly shall continue longer than ninety days, except that with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place; not for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 50 of Article IV of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment, and certifying the same to the next General Assembly.

1. Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section fifty of article four of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section fifty, article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house, to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been—

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(b) Printed by the house in which it originated, prior to its passage therein;

(c) Read at length on three different calendar days in each house; and unless,

(d) A yea and nay vote has been taken in each house upon its final passage, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal, and a majority of those voting, which shall include at least two-fifths of the members elected to each house, recorded in the affirmative.

And only in the manner required in sub-division (d) of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the same as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-division (b and c) of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency by a vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal; provided further, that no bill which creates or establishes a new office, or which creates, continues or revives a debt or charge or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues or revives a tax, shall be passed except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax, which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been:

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(b) Printed by the house in which it originated prior to its passage therein;

(c) Read by title on three different calendar days in each house and read at length at least once in each house; and unless,

(d) A yea and nay vote has been taken in each house upon its final passage, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal, and a majority of those voting, which shall include at least two-fifths of the members elected to each house, recorded in the affirmative.

And only in the manner required in sub-division "d" of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the same as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-divisions "d" and "c" of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency, by vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house, taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal; and provided further, that no bill which creates or establishes a new office, or which creates, continues, or revives a debt or charge, or makes, continues, or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges, or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues, or revives a tax, shall be passed, except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing, or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of amendments proposed to the Constitution and agreed to by the General Assembly of Virginia, session 1914, and the same is published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act of the General Assembly, approved February 3, 1908.
